

EAT UP

After a few hours of hiking, biking or soaking in the summertime scenery, you might start to feel a few pangs of hunger. Not to worry. Just because you're high in the mountains doesn't mean you have to give up on a good meal. Quite the opposite is true in Park City. Here, over 100 restaurants and bars pepper our quaint town—offering everything from pizza and burgers to five-star cuisine. It's like an oasis of eating possibilities.

PARK CITY'S SIGNATURE DRINK 2007

Last year's competition among our world-class bartenders was so successful it's been brought back by popular demand. This year's winner: a delightful concoction that captures the personality of our fun-loving town and its over 20 bars.

ROYAL STREET CAFÉ'S BLUEBERRY MOJITO

Bonnie Ulmer of Deer Valley's Royal Street Café

- 1 handful mint leaves
- 1 Tsp. granulated sugar
- Quarter wedge of lime
- 1/2 to 3/4 cup lemonade (preferably not from concentrate)
- 1 oz. premium light rum (Bacardi Silver brand suggested)
- 2 Tbsp. fresh or frozen blueberries (one tablespoon smashed to create some juice)
- Splash of soda
- 1/2 oz. premium dark rum (Myer's brand suggested)
- Sprig of mint (for garnish)
- Slice of lime (for garnish)
- ice

In a tall 16 oz. glass, add mint leaves and sugar. Squeeze juice from the lime wedge into the glass. Mash the ingredients with the back of a spoon or a special wooden "muddler" until the mixture is fragrant. Fill the glass with ice. Add lemonade until the glass is 2/3 full. Add splash of soda, then add light rum and blueberries and stir. Slowly pour dark rum into the drink so it floats on top. Garnish with a sprig of mint and lime and serve.
